

TAX BULLETIN 17-13

Virginia Department of Taxation

December 12, 2017

VIRGINIA'S INTEREST RATES WILL REMAIN THE SAME FOR THE FIRST QUARTER OF 2018

Federal Rates Remain Unchanged: State and certain local interest rates are subject to change every quarter due to changes in federal rates established pursuant to Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") § 6621. IRC § 6621 dictates that the federal underpayment and overpayment rates are three percentage points higher than the federal short-term rate. Federal rates for the first quarter of 2018 will be 4% for tax underpayments (assessments) and 4% for tax overpayments (refunds) by noncorporate taxpayers.

Virginia Code § 58.1-15 provides that the underpayment rate for Virginia taxes will be 2% higher than the corresponding federal rate and the overpayment rate for Virginia taxes will be 2% higher than the federal overpayment rate for noncorporate taxpayers. Accordingly, the Virginia rates for the first quarter of 2018 will be 6% for tax underpayments (assessments) and 6% for tax overpayments (refunds).

Rate for Addition to Tax for Underpayments of Estimated Tax

Taxpayers whose taxable year ends on December 31, 2017: For the purpose of computing the addition to the tax for underpayment of Virginia estimated income taxes on Form 500C (for corporations), Form 760C (for individuals, estates, and trusts), or Form 760F (for farmers and fishermen), the first quarter 6% underpayment rate will apply through the due date of the return, April 16, 2018 (for corporations) and May 1, 2018 (for individuals and fiduciaries).

Reduced Rate for Certain Assessments in Dispute

For administrative appeals filed with the Department of Taxation ("the Department") on or after July 1, 2011, a reduced interest rate equal to the federal short term rate established pursuant to IRC § 6621(b) applies, beginning nine months after the date of assessment until a determination is issued. The federal short-term rate established pursuant to IRC § 6621(b) for the first quarter of 2018, rounded to the nearest whole percent, is 1%. Accordingly, the reduced rate for the first quarter of 2018 for qualifying assessments in dispute is 1%.

Local Tax

Assessments: Localities that assess interest on delinquent taxes under Va. Code § 58.1-3916 may impose interest at a rate not to exceed 10% for the first year of
